This is a reading and translation of the Latin story "Rufilla" from stage 14, unit 2 of the Cambridge Latin course. The topic is "The Latin story of Rufilla and its translation into Russian. We begin with the story to understand its structure. This may be of interest to students who want to understand what a story is. Then we move on to translation. A translation is kind of like a mirror image of the original when you read it backwards. If you have a translation in your hand, you can see that it mirrors the original. But how do we make a translation? We have to "turn" the text to ourselves and see what's going on in it.
